Stewart and Adams on Winning Streak

SAN ANTONIO --- Just after winning the team roping title at the National Western Stock Show Rodeo, Jason Stewart and Randon Adams are moving towards a San Antonio championship.

With Stewart doing the heading and Adams doing the heeling, they stopped the clock on Thursday night in 5.1 seconds. Combined with their first round time of 5.9 seconds, they are now in first place in the over-all standings with a total of 11.0 seconds on two runs.

Stewart is originally from Royal City, Wash., but is now living in nearby Llano. Adams makes his home in Logandale, Nev. They each won over $5,000 at Denver, which got their rodeo season off to a good start.

Now in second place is former world champion Allen Bach who is making his home near Weatherford. Bach is roping with Charles Pogue from Ringling, Okla. They have a total time of 11.3 seconds. Pogue is a many time Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier who won the average (total on ten) title there with Britt Bockius from Claremore, Okla., in 2000. Bockius is now roping with former world champion Steve Purcella from Hereford, Texas.

The first rounds of the bareback riding and saddle bronc riding will be completed on Saturday. Contestants in those two events will then be traveling back here to compete in the second round and attempt to qualify for the final Wrangler ProRodeo Tour Round.

There are two performances of the San Antonio Stock Show Rodeo on Saturday, at 1 and 7:30 p.m.
